DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-11 and 19-24, drawn to an extended wear chain, classified in class 83, subclass 661.
- II. Claims 14-18, drawn to an extended wear chain, classified in class 83, subclass 661.
- III. Claims 25-38, drawn to a method of making an extended wear chain, classified in class 76, subclass 101.1.
- IV. Claims 39-43, drawn to a method of making an extended wear chain, classified in class 76, subclass 101.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions of Groups II/IV and I-II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). For example, the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as a process not having the steps of stamping the plurality of chain components from a raw material and placing some into a vacuum chamber.
3. Inventions of Groups II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). For example, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination can be used without the subcombination of the coating being titanium nitride or zirconium nitride. The subcombination has separate utility such as it could be used without the use of plurality of cutters connected by a tie strap, preset tie strap or drive ink and a depth gage.

4. Inventions of Groups III and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). For example, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars steps of the subcombination as claimed because the combination method can be used without the subcombination steps of the physical vapor deposition process is thermal evaporation, a sputtering, or laser ablation. The subcombination has separate utility such as it could be used without the combination steps of stamping a plurality of chain components from raw material.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 3724

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
